It was a hot African day and I decided to sit ¹ down under a tree. It was nice in the shade, so I took ² my hat and put it ³ on the ground. Then I lay ⁴ and soon I was fast asleep.

When I woke ⁵, I put ⁶ my hand to pick ⁷ my hat, but it wasn't there. I stood ⁸ and looked ⁹, but I couldn't see it.

Then I heard a noise. I looked ¹⁰ and in the tree above me there was a monkey. It was holding my hat.

I started to climb ¹¹ the tree, but the monkey just jumped ¹² to a higher branch, so I climbed the tree again. 'Give me ¹⁴ my hat,

I shouted and I waved my arms, but the monkey just waved its arms, too. Then I thought: 'If I frighten the monkey, it will run ¹⁵, and then I'll never get my hat ¹⁶

I sat ¹⁷ to think, and I noticed that the monkey sat ¹⁸, too. I stood ¹⁹, and the monkey stood ²⁰, too. 'Ah-hah,' I thought. I put my hand in my pocket, took ²¹ a handkerchief and I put it on my head. The monkey took my hat and put it ²², too. Then I took ²³ the handkerchief. The monkey took ²⁴ the hat. Then I threw the handkerchief ²⁵ The monkey threw my hat ²⁶

When the hat landed on the ground, I quickly picked it

²⁷, put it ²⁸ and walked ²⁹

After a while, I looked ³⁰, but the monkey was gone.
